Project Report #1

First of all, we met with the team and listened to each other's ideas, and approved the functionality of the site. After that, we started installing and connecting golang, and then html. We started with tracking URLs, then created structures (data models), worked with HTML templates.